DOW TECHNOLOGIES HIRES NEW ACCOUNT MANAGER

New Hire Has In-The-Field Experience Plus Sales History

TAMPA, Fla. (December 30, 2025) – DOW Technologies, the leading independently owned technology distributor, announced today that Joey Almirall has joined the company as an Account Manager for the Custom Integration channel. Almirall brings a stellar record of sales success and account management.

Almirall began his career at Best Buy and grew from a Computer Sales Associate to a Microsoft product expert over his first two years. With his excellent service record, Almirall became a leading Geek Squad Supervisor that built customer loyalty through hands-on demonstrations, personalized system designs, and providing exceptional customer experiences. Almirall then transitioned to a sales consultant position that provided in-home consultations tailored to each client's specific needs to deliver personalized solutions. Almirall's role with DOW will be focused on customer support for DOW's dealers in the Southeast.

"This is a great opportunity to advance my career in an industry that I'm passionate about and truly enjoy," stated Almirall. "I am excited to share my knowledge and experience to help support DOW's customers."

"Joey has an excellent ability to create relationships with customers that helps him understand their needs," stated Eric Friedman, strategic sales manager, custom integration. "His experience working with the same end customers that our dealers are servicing is an asset to help him provide ideas and solutions to our dealers."

"Adding Joey to this award-winning support team benefits our customers due to his industry experience and dedicated support," added Drew Fischer, vice president, home integration & specialty sales. "We really believe Joey will be an asset that our customers in the Southeast can lean on for great service and product knowledge."
