DOW TECHNOLOGIES WINS EIGHT QUEST FOR QUALITY AWARDS

First Time Winning Prestigious Industry Award

TAMPA, Fla. (April 13, 2021) – DOW Technologies, the leading independently owned electronics and technology services distributor, was recently awarded eight Quest for Quality Awards in CE Pro's 11th annual competition. In the first year DOW won any Quest for Quality Awards, it received an award in each of the available categories.

CE Pro's Quest for Quality Awards recognize the services offered by distributors and manufacturers that supply custom integrators. The eight distributor categories were voted on by CE Pro's readers; this year saw a record-breaking 14,550 votes cast. The Awards are open to distributors across the nation.

DOW Technologies won a first place Platinum Award for the Best Dealer Programs/Incentives, Best COVID-19 Response, and Best Virtual Trade Show/Conference Presence categories. DOW won Gold Awards for the Best Technical Support, Best Shipping Policies, Best Website, and Best Training Programs categories. In the Best Customer Service category, DOW was awarded the Silver Award.

"I believe this is a testament to our sales team and the dedication of our whole company to provide our customers the best experience," stated senior vice president Dave Elkin. "The tremendous support we received this year is overwhelming. We are thankful for all of our loyal dealers."

"We are truly honored at receiving eight awards in this year's Quest for Quality," stated president & ceo John Yodzis. "These awards recognize the effort we put in as an organization to help our dealers succeed. As we continue to expand into new regions, we can't rest on what we've achieved, but instead continue to listen to our customers' needs and provide top level customer service."
